to take cover.

"He took command of the entire situation and directed the fire against the snipers for nearly an hour.

GOING AFTER SNIPERS.

"Two machine guns kept up in constant fire at Mick's open car, but up to 20 then no one had been hurt and I began to look as though the irregulars were going to scatter in order to risk no more casualties."

Expect Free Staters to Adopt Stern Policy.

Dublin, Aug. 24.—There was some sniping in Dublin throughout the night. Further fighting was reported from the leader of County Cork and County Limerick. The Irish Provisional Government's appeal to carry on without attempting any reprisals upon the Republicans had been successful up to this point, but the feeling against the Valera, Eoinne Children and their followers is more bitter.

It is probable that it will result in a stern policy by the Dublin government towards the Republic. The Irish Provisional Government's appeal to carry on without attempting any reprisals upon the Republicans had been successful up to this point, but the feeling against the Valera, Eoinne Children and their followers is more bitter.

FIGHT ON TILL END.

"The sudden burst of shooting caused Mick to turn around for a few seconds, and the next moment I saw him fall to the ground, but through the head."

"As he lay dying he shouted words of encouragement to his men to fight and not mind him."

"Immediately there were cries of 'God, Mick is shot!' Men rushed to his assistance. Although badly hurt by a bullet from a levered wound,

Collins Felt His Death Was Near; Bade Pal Good-by

London, Aug. 24 (By the Associated Press).—A Belfast dispatch to the Evening News today says it is clear that Michael Collins had a premonition of death. Recently Collins saw a Belfast friend, to whom he said upon taking leave:

"Goodby. I will say goodbye because I don't expect I shall ever see you again."

The correspondent adds that it is stated in Belfast that Collins had been "sentenced to death" by the Irish Republic's own Brotherhood.

Churchill Confident Free State Will Win

London, Aug. 24 (International News Service).—Winston Churchill, Secretary of State for the Colonies, whose office has been handling the "Irish situation" since the Irish office was abolished, declared today that he is confident that the Irish Free State will win its way to stability.

"Great Britain is confident that the Irish will carry out the approach Irish treaty," declared Secretary Churchill. "Britain does not plan to interfere in Ireland."

"You cannot kill a nation by killing its leaders. Ireland will continue fighting for the treaty."

Secretary Churchill mourned the death of Collins, who was a wise and able leader, but he was confident that other leaders would be found to take Collins' place and restore peace.

THOUSANDS OF IRISH SOLDIERS MARCHED BY STRIPS OF DUBLIN

Dublin, Aug. 24 (By the Associated Press).—Thousands of Irish soldiers, the Irish Republic's army, marched by strips of Dublin today.

General Collins' body was met at the dock by large throngs of mourners, including Richard Mackay, chief of staff and acting head of the provisional government, and other prominent representatives of the army. The body was taken on a funeral procession, preceded by a band of pipers, to St. Vincent's Hospital.

PRAYERS FOR THE DEAD.

Prayers were said at the procession passed in silence, broken only by the distant crack of snipers' rifles in various parts of the stricken city. The cortege was flanked by a line of Dublin guards marching in slow time, with the muskets of their revolvers protruding from the holsters. A detachment of six guards in blue uniforms followed. They were the only uniformed men in the procession.

Behind them came an armoured car bristling with rifles held at all angles, computing an honor guard to the funeral procession. Several men who were wounded in the fighting near the County Cork, Tuesday night, in which Collins lost his life, had accompanied their beloved leader on the way to the morgue. The coffin from the steamer through the long avenue of troops with reverent steps to the waiting gun carriage.

NEW LEADER OF IRISH ARMY AND HIS AIDE

Ralph Magin was only nineteen years old, but deeply in love with Katherine Oliver.

Katherine was a little older than Ralph, being twenty. But what a year or two when one is in love?

Mrs. May Magin, No. 2, Upper place, Roxbury, is Ralph's mother. Of course she loves her only boy, but she didn't care, even a little, for Katherine. In fact she dislikes her intensely. That's what caused all the complications, and the assurance of all three in the Roxbury District Court today.

COUPLE ELOPE.

Three weeks ago "mother" Magin was forced to give up with her sweetheart and more. Ralph knew she meant it, so he disappeared from home. For days he hid in a hole in the wall. He was living on Norfolk street.

Next day Katherine walked down to her sister's house on Quincy place to tell her the glad tidings. Mrs. Magin sent her away. Informed at the party, dark-eyed woman who had been in her, the older woman snatched up the only knife from her kitchen table and started for her.

Katherine told a cop her story, the general and sent her to the court and told her she might get the warrant of arrest of her mother.

Meanwhile "Papa" Magin called up his son and told him to come home. He is forgiven them. Delighted, the young couple, with visions of peaceful life and an end to his household, hurried right over to Quincy place.

Alas! "The road of good intention."

Mother had fully made up her mind to forgive the girl. The night of the elopement she had been too much for her. She sent her nearest thing to her hand. It was broken.

PROTECTS WIFE.

Ralph was also protective. The incident in the Roxbury district court. He acted his mother. The result was that Mrs. Magin was ordered to leave the house. Ralph, charging him with assaulting his own wife, was arrested.

Ralph's wife was right at the moment of a warrant charging her with assault on her husband. Judge Hayden heard the charges in the morning and continued all cases until September 7.

TODAY

He was chased, made to drop the egg and break it. He was witness.

Another saw a rat lying on its back in the gutter, with its stomach with four legs. Other rats were dragging it along by the tail, using the rat on its back as a sled.

Another saw a rat nibble a hole in the eggshell, but in a long tooth and drag the egg gently away.

The rat is more ingenious than we had thought—a most voracious animal. By the way, rats are not only a pest to the household, but they are also a pest to the farmer. A farmer told me that he had a rat that was eating his corn. He had a rat that was eating his corn. He had a rat that was eating his corn.

ROCK SHOWER INJURES GIRL WITH SAILOR

Miss Grace Beaumont, sixteen years old, is at the Relief Hospital with lacerated wounds of the scalp and a possible concussion of the brain as a result of a strange maul up in which the police, a sailor from the U. S. S. Cleveland and a number of thoughtless boys were involved near the Warren bridge, Charlestown.

The sailor is Carl W. Marler. He owns a rowboat which has a small engine and he and Miss Beaumont were riding down the harbor shortly before midnight. They were playing marbles, singing and drifting about slowly.

SHOT STALLS. Near the Warren bridge the engine stalled. The two were content to leave it stalled for a few minutes and sat on the row boat in the time-honored fashion of youthful sweethearts on a summer night.

Finally they decided to move on. Marler asked to start the motor. He had some difficulty with it, and he had ever repeatedly to adjust it. As he did so the boat drifted alongside a wharf, where a number of young men, some of whom were wearing hats, were standing and watching the boat.

POLICE GIVE CHASE. Marler took his seat and shoved on the motor. The boat started to move. The watchman, continued, called the police boat. Marler got into the river. The police arrived and went after him, believing they were chasing a thief.

The police fired several shots in the air. Marler instantly halted. They overtook him and found the girl fainting in his arms. She had been struck a severe blow on the head by one of the rocks thrown at them, and was bleeding profusely.

The two were hurried ashore and the girl sent to the hospital. The sailor soon convinced the officers he was only the victim of circumstances, and they let him return to his ship.

Miss Beaumont lives at No. 41 Tremont street.

HEAVY SEAS RIP THINGS UP ON FREIGHTER

With her flying bridge torn away, her portable deck fittings ripped up and her crew's quarters washed out, the British steamer Harrington steamed into port today on a stormy passage across the North Atlantic.

The freighter came from Fowey with 4,319 tons of china clay and took a northerly course. On the Grand Banks she encountered heavy weather and, according to Captain T. A. Scott, was boarded by heavy seas.

Last Sunday she encountered heavy weather off Sable Island, and about 3 a. m. Monday, after passing the island, the Harrington was knocked down by a sea which nearly overwhelmed her. It was at this time that most of the damage was done.

The wind was blowing from the west at seventy miles an hour, and Captain Scott declared that the sea was higher than he had ever seen on a summer passage.

FEAR MISSING DRUGGIST HAS ENDED LIFE

Mrs. Harvey J. Drinnell of No. 275 Massachusetts avenue, Arlington, is on the verge of collapse because of the mysterious disappearance of her fifty-four-year-old husband, well known druggist.

Mrs. Drinnell left her home on Monday, ostensibly to go to his recently purchased drug store in Maynard.

Shortly after he left, Mrs. Drinnell received a letter from him. It told of financial troubles, and contained instructions as to the disposition of the business and funds on deposit in various banking institutions.

Investigating, Mrs. Drinnell found that her husband's revolver was missing.

In her report to the police she said he had recently bought the drug store of P. H. de Lee of Maynard for $17,500. After the deal, she said, her husband found he had incurred a heavy money loss on account of alleged irregularities in the matter of inventory stock.

The wife fears he has done away with himself in a fit of despondency, exacerbated by his business worries.

Mrs. Drinnell, through his long connection with the retail drug business in Boston, was well known in pharmaceutical circles. He was also active in Masonic affairs.

WANTS STATE POLICE ABOLISHED IN N. Y.

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., Aug. 24.—The convention of the New York Federation of Labor today voted to introduce in the 1923 Legislature a bill for the abolition of the state constabulary, characterized by several delegates as "Governor Miller's Constabulary." Should this bill, a resolution asked that the act creating the state police be amended so as to prohibit their use in industrial disputes and confine the troops to rural districts.

RICH BROOKLINE WIDOW WILL ANSWER ALIENATION SUIT

DOCTOR'S WIFE IS ACCUSER

Mrs. William A. Green Charges Husband Deserted Her and Lived With Mrs. Elliott

A tale of love that reaches from a Summer cottage at Winthrop to the Bahai Colony at Green Harbor, Maine, and back to an apartment house in Brighton, will be unfolded when Dr. William A. Green and Mrs. Flora Elliott, a wealthy Brookline woman, appear in Brighton court to answer statutory charges.

The couple were divorced on a warrant issued to Mrs. William Green, who claims her doctor husband deserted her a year ago. The alienation charge, which has excited the interest of Brookline and Brighton society, promises to reveal some sensational charges.

MEET AFTER VACATION.
Dr. Green, then a young physician, who with child first met Mrs. Elliott when they were neighbors at Winthrop during the Summers of 1915 and 1916. He strong were the bonds of friendship that they continued to meet after returning to Boston for the Winter months.

Mrs. Elliott, the widow of Mr. Elliott, a wealthy resident of Brookline and daughter of Jacob Falkenstein, who is head of a big clothing concern, is rich in her own right. Her husband was killed in an automobile accident about two years ago. He had been dead about a year when friends noticed that Dr. Green and the young widow were together on many occasions. Then followed the separation between Green and his wife.

WIFE GETS WARRANT.
A summer mansion on Samuel Avenue, in the Kenmore section of Manhattan Beach, owned by Mrs. Elliott, is unoccupied.

She was located several weeks ago at the Bahai colony at the Bahai Colony in Green Harbor. With her new Dr. Green. Friends of the Green family intervened and the couple decided to return to Boston. The meetings continued here, it is alleged, and upon hearing of the Brighton "parties" the physician's wife obtained a warrant and the police arrested the couple at No. 88 Corey road.

WAS READY TO MOVE.
When police arrived at Mrs. Elliott's apartment on Corey road.

MARTIAL LAW IN PARTS OF GUATEMALA.
Mexico City, Aug. 24.—Martial law has been proclaimed in seven departments of Guatemala on account of the spread of the revolutionary movement, according to a dispatch from the Guatemalan frontier today. Casapichua has been established on the Guatemalan-Mexican border.

OLDEST MAINE LAWYER IS DEAD.
Biddeford, Me., Aug. 24.—Daniel M. Chase, eighty-four, the oldest member of the York County bar, and who had been in active practice longer than any other lawyer in the State, is dead at his home in Biddeford. He was a classmate of the late Theodore H. Reed in Bowdoin College, graduating in 1869, and was also a graduate of the Harvard Law School.

DUPES PLAYED WITH DIAMOND-STUDDED DICE

New York, Aug. 24.—A luxury outfit furnished apartment, where out-of-town visitors were quizzed, after being attracted there by two blonde girls, was brought to light when the police raided a house on the upper West Side, near Riverside Drive.

Diamond studded dice, listed by the police as worth $100, solid gold put-on-take tape and many packs of multi-colored playing cards were among the objects found by the raiders.

Shivers from other cities had complained to various hotels that, during the night, they had fallen prey to two charming girls who were apparently women of wealth, as they had their own automobiles and uniform chauffeurs.

A watch being set, one girl, who gave her name after the arrest as Miss Mary Byrne, was locked and trailed to the apartment. When the police entered the apartment, they had just given a check for $104 in payment of gambling debts and another check in just after the police arrived, which had already made a complaint of having been defrauded of $30 in cash and a check.

The two girls were charged with being a decoy for the apartment, were arrested and held for court action.

MAD DOG ATTACKS GIRL IN EAST BOSTON

Miss Leona Collins, eighteen, of No. 139 Lexington street, East Boston, narrowly escaped serious injury when a mad collie dog attacked her. The dog was being pursued by a group of fifteen men from the Lexington street car line in East Boston, where he had bitten Frank Robinson, twenty, of No. 306 Lexington street, in the upper left arm. The dog no longer made his attack upon Miss Dalton, then the crowd caught up with him and drove him off, but not before he had torn her sweater to shreds. The chase then led to the rear of the car barn, where a bullet from the gun of a fireman quickly despatched the dog.

The lad explained that his father, a contractor, had sent him to the fish wharf to pick up some barrels of wharf refuse, which he was to dump, and that he took the salt mackerel by mistake. He was discharged, the judge stating that the case was one for civil, not criminal action.

HALT WEDDING OF TECH MAN TO ACTRESS

The matrimonial plans laid by Donald Tiffany McAvoy of Bridgeport, Ct., student at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, went all askew when he presented himself before the marriage license clerk in Rye Beach, N. Y., and sought a license to wed Miss Irene Castle, actress, formerly of the "Green with Village Polka."

Miss Castle told the city clerk she was 14 years old. The clerk looked at her carefully and thoughtfully, however, and asked her again. This time she broke down and admitted she is only 14.

McAvoy, in turn, who first gave his age as 21, later admitted he is younger.

Their application for a license was promptly turned down.

The girl told her story as follows: Her father, one Des Rochers, deserted her mother a few months after marriage. The mother soon afterward married Martin Lynch and the family moved to Brooklyn. Later they moved to Auburn, N. Y., and then went back to New York. There, she said, she was for a time a model at Hosiery.

While in New York she joined the "Puffs." Leaving them, and after she went to Hibernia, N. Y., with her mother, where the latter opened a beauty parlor.

CALL FOR CURB ON CRIMES OF TURKEY

America appealed to a number of prominent men of Massachusetts for an expression of opinion as to the part the United States should take in protection of Christians in Asia Minor.

As a result, letters were sent to Secretary of State Hughes by Governor Cox, Joseph Walker, James L. Barton, J. Weston Allen and others, urging further action on the part of the American government in urging the Turkish authorities to direct against the Armenians and Greeks.

Miss Castle was injured beneath the horse in the fall, and was rescued by her groom. She is suffering from a fractured right collar bone, and has been obliged to cancel a number of touring pictures and dancing contracts.

POLITICAL NOTES

Declaring that District Attorney Thomas C. O'Brien is possessed of either "superlative power" or a pair of "seven league boots" like those in ancient mythology, Congressman William J. Foley, an opponent, pointed out "incongruities" in O'Brien publicly at rallies in the South End. "News Bureau" in correspondence placed O'Brien in New York in conference with New York dope experts.

O'Brien publicly proposed had placed him at the same time in "largely attended" here which never occurred. He should be named "the ruler of the seven league boots." Foley declared.

Register candidate for Registrar of Deeds, Charles A. Winchester, in the Registrar's office at rallies in Jamaica Plain, Dorchester and the South End. "Among other improvements I will introduce," he declared, "will be the sale of revenue stamps, needed for documents, for the accommodation of working people who must transport all their business in their few hours' respite from work. Failure to have such accommodations causes great losses to persons of moderate means."

The Martin Garibaldi Republican Club of Massachusetts hasten to announce their endorsement of the Republican candidates for office.

Mayor James M. Curley in a formal reply to the charge of "Prohibition" that he disregards facts in his attacks on the Boston record says:

"Since the Democratic Club with the Republican heart men—fact I will say that I have hesitated to use some of the facts at my command concerning him, he wants facts I will proceed to give them."

"According to official State House records," Curley (Boston's law firm, received $10,000 for lobbying through him in which the Massachusetts Manufacturing Company was interested. In 1921 his firm was general counsel for the Boston Elevated road in legislation in which the road was interested. Every year till 1919 found his firm on Beacon Hill working in the interest of some corporation seeking in street rights from the people. I further charge that he and his firm are the agents of the interest here in Boston."

Joseph E. Warner, Lieutenant Governor Fuller's opponent for reelection, in speeches in Western Massachusetts promised aid to the farmers saying: "The Commonwealth is not bound to do anything to foster an interest in agricultural lands for they were as a clearing house of progress in forming the farmers of the State as to the latest universal agricultural activities."

Mrs. Charles Sumner Bird of the Women's Republican Club headed Senator Lodge before a woman's rally attended by the senior Senator at The Willows in Salem.

"I am deeply grateful to Henry Cabot Lodge for all that he has done to promote our great democratic government in its integrity," she declared. "For his heroic fulfillment of the patriotic objects of the wise framers of our constitution, for what he has done in maintaining our rights and honor abroad and our best interests at home. Senator Lodge, the Republican women of Massachusetts salute you and are with you."

William P. Connery, Jr., candidate for Congress from the Seventh District, on next Tuesday night will invade the citadel of his opponent ex-Mayor Kane of Lawrence with his slogan: "He served you in France. Why not in Washington?" emboldened on his banners. Connery, the senior secretary to Mayor McPherson of Lawrence, will have the support of many Republicans as well as Democrats in the event of his ousting the Democratic administration.

District Attorney C. Howard Donnell of Essex County campaign for the Republican nomination for Attorney General in Middlesex, Forest Hills and Dedham while his opponent, Attorney George Drury of Waltham, held forth in the watch city and other points.

sons, or with money owed to Great Britain by other countries or even Germany repudiation, it was declared today by Secretary of the Treasury Mellon in an annual statement. Mr. Mellon's statement was regarded as the most important declaration that has yet been made by the government defining the status of foreign loans. It was held to be particularly significant at this time—the eve of the coming of a British debt mission to negotiate settlement terms.

Throughout the statement Secretary Mellon made it clear the United States looks to Great Britain to furnish the most important declaration that has yet been made by the government defining the status of foreign loans. It was held to be particularly significant at this time—the eve of the coming of a British debt mission to negotiate settlement terms.

Joseph R. Kelly, candidate for the Democratic nomination for Governor of the notional Commonwealth, has just concluded a whirlwind series of stump speeches in Palmer, Ware, Brookfield, Milford and Framingham. Tonight he will hold forth in Chelsea and East Boston on "Real Democratic government."

William T. A. Fitzgerald, register of deeds, at rallies in Dorchester stressed his life-long career in the Democratic and his friendship for his law classmates, U. S. Senator David I. Walsh. He told his duties as register has been manifested by the fact that during his sixteen years' incumbency he has taken but one vacation.

Former Governor Francis candidates for the Democratic nomination for the House of Representatives on the road and fast situation is almost criminal. "The whole attitude of the Republicans," he declared, "seems to be to engage in taking the people to the limit and rendering as little satisfaction as possible."

John L. Donovan of Boston, a stump speaker for Colonel Gatten in his candidacy for the Senate attacked Governor's opponent, Edward W. Walsh, as a "champion of the British League of Nations," a "friend of the Watch and Ward Society," and an ardent supporter of "Prohibition strictly enforced against the man of moderate means."

Donovan headed a long parade of stinging comments that landed the Boston wards in a series of open air rallies.

Renewal of his declaration that existing laws are adequate for the punishment of profiteers, Senator James P. Curley, of Everett, candidate for the Republican nomination for Attorney General told an audience in Lowell, that neither one of his opponents would start in immediately his anti-profit campaign utilizing existing laws—when he is elected.

George Stanley Harvey, Republican candidate for the district attorney of Suffolk County, will soon start a whirlwind tour of every section of the Commonwealth. All will be out-door rallies.

Joseph P. Walsh, another candidate for the Democratic nomination for District Attorney stated to an audience in Oxford Heights: "Distasteful as it is for me to say so, I am compelled to believe at this time that the Politician situation requires a surgical operation in the Democratic party."

We may not agree with the strictness of the Supreme Court but as true Americans we are bound to abide by them. They have decided that Mr. Pelletier shall not be an District Attorney and we are bound to abide by their decision no matter how hard it is to believe that the affection the people of Boston have for Mr. Pelletier will be so easily pressed without his going to the polls."

Governor Cox has made public an endorsement of the candidacy of Suffolk County. The endorsement of the Massachusetts Bar Association, the Governor as a "brother" of the profession the barriers exist him as a vigorous and progressive executive and an able member of the bar.

Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, in his first speech in his campaign for reelection, told the Republican women of Essex County that the tariff bill just passed was based on the theory of protection of American industry and agriculture.

Among the endorsements of William J. Paton, candidate for District Attorney of Suffolk County, is that of the Roxbury Civic League of Ward 16.

Assistant District Attorney James C. Kelly, candidate for the Republican and Democrat nomination for district attorney of Middlesex County, will open his campaign in an out-door rally at Rock Park, Malden.

John Jackson Walsh, at a meeting of working railroad shopmen in Hibernian Hall, Charlestown, today said it is essential to American progress that employees have an adequate wage, even if big business becomes less profitable.

Addressing the members of the executive committee of his campaign committee today, Congressman William J. Foley warned them to be on the watch for propaganda circulated by his opponents, but to do with a coalition prior to primary day. He said that all such rumors were false and being circulated for the purpose of alienating his supporters.

RISES TO DEFEND PIES RIGHT TO BE ON BREAKFAST TABLE

APPROVED FOR THIS ZONE

It's All Right for Those Who Are Used to New England Diet

The much maligned and even more strenuously defended delicacy, known to this section of the country, has found a defender as a breakfast food among the medical bodies.

To be sure New Englanders, being somewhat set in their ways, have long included pie in the breakfast menu, but hitherto none of them have frowned upon it.

New comes Dr. Isaac D. Hawkins, director of the Illinois State Department of Public Health, who deposes that:

"If people want pie for breakfast and live in the pie zone, don't rob them of their pie providing they don't eat too much of several other things."

Owing to some lamentable oversight, Dr. Hawkins neglected to mention doughnuts. His ruling of pie was contained in a symposium on breakfasts published in the Medical Review of Reviews, in which a majority of physicians, including Dr.

Tip Strike in Hotel Forces Guests to Cook Own Meals

Boston Aug. 24.—The hotel employees of the capital have proclaimed a general strike following refusal of their demands for inclusion of a 10 per cent. tip in all bills presented to guests. The guests, including a number of Americans, are being obliged to cook their own meals.

Eugene H. Kelly, Commissioner of Public Health of Massachusetts, favored a nationally first meal of the day.

Dr. Kelly, together with other prominent physicians of Massachusetts and elsewhere, advocated a hearty breakfast followed by a light lunch as the healthiest regime for those engaged in sedentary occupations. The ideal breakfast, it was stated, consisted of fruit, cereal, bacon and eggs, toast and a beverage. Physicians lauded their advocacy of a hearty breakfast on the fact that only a light lunch is necessary after consuming a substantial meal in the morning, thus leaving the brain active and alert for the afternoon's work.

FAIR STREET SMOKERS O. K. IN FALL RIVER

Fall River, Aug. 24.—New York may be provincial and narrow in its ideas but Fall River is not afflicted with little-minded officials. Chief of Police Martin Finnerly has given his approval to the Fair Street Smokers in their plan to hold a picnic in the park on September 10.

The picnic will be held on the Fair Street grounds, which are owned by the city. The smokers have been given the go-ahead by the police, and the picnic will be held on the grounds of the Fair Street Smokers.

DIG THROUGH WALL, GET BIG HAUL

Cleveland, Aug. 24.—For once and other wearing apparel by the value of $10,000 was stolen by thieves, who tunneled through an adjoining piano store into the Knigle and Pitzer Furniture Company's building. A large party across the front of the piano store obscured the operations of the gang, and they operated leisurely, taking only the most valuable articles.

HEIR TO $60,000 KILLS HIMSELF

Hazardsville, Ct., Aug. 24.—Beverly, it is said, she would not take to him, Edward L. Barrett, 42, a carpenter, shot and killed himself here after firing three shots at Mrs. John Perry, 25, his landlady's mistress. Two of the shots took effect in the woman's body, but she will recover. Barrett, a brother of Building Inspector Frederick W. Barrett of Hartford, recently fell heir to an estate of $60,000.

Easiest Way to Remove Ugly Hairy Growth

MOVIE DRILL NEWS GOSSIP

By FRIEDA DAVIS

"ROUND the world in eighty days" doesn't seem a thing today when you can go on a sight-seeing tour of Hollywood and "cover" the universe. When pictures were started, famous locations were "taken" and runs took place. The audience, naturally, "did something about it." They began sending their players roaming over the world to get the real thing.

Now, however, they are doing still better and with far less trouble. Sending companies off broadcast seems a needless extravagance, particularly when the original "location" can be reproduced in Hollywood as they were some years ago, only substantially and correctly. There is no attempt to "take" or fool the public. The sets are made for good, and they have been built with an eye for detail.

I myself, having the greatest amount of hard work of any studio on the West coast, have the best array of such locations. There is a perfect replica of a portion of Fifth Avenue, with beyond it is a block from Broadway. The rest of the New York movie companies can "take out" these sets whenever they need New York action. Mr. Fox has just used them for "The Sign of the Cross," which is at Universal City, while portions of Constantinople, India, England and France, can be built.

PALLINER'S RETENTION.

PALLINER'S RETENTION returns to the opening stage when "The Gully One" opened in Chicago on Monday night was something of a revelation. Everyone knew it was popular, but twenty-one curtain calls is something for the most brilliant of stars. The audience recalled her at the end of the second act until they bade fair to disrupt the performance. She will be greatly missed on the screen, for we have few, if any, actresses who can beg to show the beauty and talent Miss Fredrickson could add.

FOHMAN WITH

TIM FOHMAN is starting his first independent production in his native city, for his story, "The Sign of the Cross," is a good one in the first place and he is owning a hand-picked company for the leading roles.

LEN CHERRY has the important part of the picture, doubtless that of the Chinaman, while Marjorie, the de la Motte, is the heroine. John Hannon, who was seen in "The Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse," is the villain.

LEN CHERRY is improving real by each and others of the same caliber. One may have high hopes for the picture.

T. ROY BARNES FOR ADAM.

T. ROY BARNES has been signed on a contract with the Famous Players-Lasker and is to appear in his new picture, "Adam and Eve," which is being produced by the Famous Players-Lasker. This time it will bear the name "Adam and Eve," which is a "location" for the rural part of the story. Robert G. Vignola is directing.

THOMAS AND ORANGE BLOSSOMS.

THE old-fashioned melodrama is with us once more, or perhaps. It's still. Having launched his first production, "Rich Man's Wife," he won't repeat that the film made little impression on us. All likelihood is all set for a second picture. This time it will bear the name "Thomas and Orange Blossoms."

KID BENNETT, who has just finished work as

will "take a little" to be the only one of that sort on the Fair board until Von Stroheim gets ready to show "The Sign of the Cross" — well, anyway, Miss Bennett has the lead in the new Littlejohn show. De-De Taylor, who is struggling to fit Theda Bara's shoes, is the screen's best or worst "ramp," will be the heavy in the picture.

LOANER BOAT CASE.

KATHERINE MACDONALD is hard at work on "The Lonely Road," her next picture for First National. The company is complete now and includes O'Neill, John Cullen, James Hall, Frank Leigh, Charles French, Eugene Decker and Vera Lewis. Victor Soderstrom is writing the magazine on the story.

BATHING GIRL BEAUTY SHOW SATURDAY

The Starfield will come to Boston to serve as one of the judges in the Nantasket Beach Bathing Beauty Contest, to be held at Nantasket on Saturday afternoon at 4:30 p. m. The contest will be held on the beach.

When word of the contest reached New York, several days ago, Mr. Ziegfeld became interested, seeing an opportunity to discover material for his "Follies" beauty choruses. He made inquiry about the contest by telephone and was invited to appear as a judge. He immediately accepted.

Another opportunity for fame and fortune open to the girls in the bathing beauty contest is sponsored by the Mosaic Company. P. M. Arnes will be present as a judge in the contest and seek a girl who will become the sister of the famous Mosaic Boy in publicity features. An other judge will be Thomas J. Griffin, one of the officials of the Nantasket Beach Steamboat Company.

Twenty cash prizes, totaling $150, will be awarded to the winners of the Bathing Beauty Contest. The first prize is $100. Those wishing to compete are urged to register not later than Friday night at the office of the Nantasket Beach Steamboat Company, No. 1 Howe Wharf, at Nantasket Beach on Saturday morning. Will be provided for contestants in the ladies' bath house.

PARADE AT 4:30.

Contestants may appear in the contest in either wet or dry bathing suits. At 4:45 p. m. they must assemble at the southerly end of the Nantasket Hotel, and at 4:50 p. m. they will parade before the judges, who will be in front of the Nantasket Hotel. Following the awarding of prizes the winners in the contest will have a banquet at the Palm Garden.

DOCTOR'S WIFE IS GRANTED ALIMONY

Mrs. Viola L. Fryberg of Worcester was granted temporary alimony of $15 a week and counsel fees of $30, in a suit for divorce brought against her by her husband, a physician, of Worcester, who charges desertion. The divorce was entered by Judge Keating in the equity division of the Superior Court at Boston, Counsel for Dr. Fryberg agreed to the payments to be made to his wife.

GURNE COAST GUARD RESCUES MOTOR BOAT

Plymouth, Aug. 14.—The Gurnet Coast Guard crew rescued a big motor boat from Sharon which was bound for Plymouth harbor, but made the mistake of trying to take a short cut around across Plymouth beach, striking a sandbar about half way of its length. The Gurnet crew used the station power boat and at Boston, Counsel for Dr. Fryberg agreed to the payments to be made to his wife.

Can You Trust Your Doctor?

THERE are 45,000 different remedies! Not more than fifty are really necessary and the number of definite cures is not more than a dozen. No wonder all but the soundest and most progressive doctors fall into the easy habit of handing over—as a personal prescription—some skillfully exploited patent cure!

No wonder hundreds of thousands of people prescribe for themselves across the drug counter, knowing a little about what they take, as they take it.

Nothing in your life is more important than the choice of a doctor! Whether you choose for your family an alert up-to-date physician or a quack—no matter how respectable—means much all the difference between happiness and utter misery!

Doctors and Drug Mongers

The first of a series by Dr. Paul de Kruif, in Hearst's International Magazine for September, tells you in clear, simple language the exact principles that will guide you safely through the maze of medicines and delirium of doubtful doctors.

Thousands of earnest physicians, who have fallen victims to a false drug traffic, will read these articles with the keenest interest. And every mother or father, every responsible guardian, every man or woman, who must know how his doctor measures up, will find them absolutely beyond the value of money!

For "DOCTORS AND DRUG MONGERS" together with seven other authoritative articles, Review of Books, Plays, Art, Science; three great Novels and seven sparkling Short Stories, get Hearst's International for September. You will find it a magazine, as beautiful as it is brilliant; as instructive as it is interesting.

LYNN MAYOR WANTS DEMPSEY-BRENNAN BOUT IN HIS CITY

PLANS BIG BATTLE FOR COLUMBUS DAY

LYNN, Aug. 24.—Mayor of Lynn would like to have the Dempsey-Brennan fight in a city and under the auspices of the State.

It is the hope of the Mayor to have the fight in Lynn, says Lynn's chief executive. It would be a great piece of advertising for the city and would bring several thousand dollars worth of business here.

Nothing is legalized in this matter, and it is the Mayor's opinion that not only should I give permission to have the fight in Lynn, but I can secure one of the best spots in the country for the staging of the bout. Lynn is only thirty minutes ride from Boston by train and we have two train lines and several car lines running into our city.

We have excellent hotel and all around for the staging of this big bout and I want a letter from the managers of both Dempsey and Brennan to the Mayor of Lynn.

The Mayor has a new idea of Lynn's future.

Walker apparently has recovered from the attack of pneumonia pneumonia which has kept him in his hotel with John Wayne.

Mickey should have rather easy going against Nelson. The latter is a rough tough fighter but this type of miller hasn't got any of a heavy puncher like Wad.

Bulger drives that Mickey's was a going ability would give him a chance in a battle with Britton. As Britton has the right to fight with the great warrier of the time.

The New York continuation of the fight may be a last effort but it is a fight which will be a great one.

Fletcher's
CASTORIA

The False and the True.

Advertising by the use of large space, the expenditure of huge sums of money have played on the market, have put in your name, perhaps, many articles that today have been discarded, as you will readily admit.

Do you recall anything that has more modestly appealed to the public than has Fletcher's Castoria: modest in all its claims, pleading at all times—and truthfully—for our babies?

The big splurge, the misleading claims may win for a time, but the honest truth-telling advertiser is like the old story of the tortoise that beat the hare.

Mothers everywhere, and their daughters, now mothers, speak frankly, glowing, enthusiastically in praise of Fletcher's Castoria. Speak of it lovingly as a friend that has brought comfort, cheer and smiles to their little-ones.

To them; to these true mothers no argument can induce them to set aside their bottle of Castoria, their old friend, that they might try even another and unknown remedy for babies. Then, would YOU think of going to YOUR OWN medicine chest to find relief for Baby's troubles? Can you not separate the false from the true?

THREATENED WITNESS ARREST

Mrs. Pelosi Approached by Three Men Since She Testified in Black Hand Trial

Mrs. Domitilla Pelosi, testifying today in the Black Hand murder case before Judge Duquesne, said that she had been threatened by three men since her last appearance on the witness stand two weeks ago.

When she took the stand last testimony was confined to statements in which she spoke of seeing Joseph Bonanno and Giuseppe Sardo, two of the defendants, together.

Subsequently, she said, she received a visit from John T. Rossi, a man who came on from New York shortly before the killing.

Questioned by one of the attorneys, Mrs. Pelosi admitted that her business was getting nowhere.

She said she was the woman who was with Carmine Piro when he was shot to death recently in a summer garden in Brooklyn in the case of his contemplated return to Rome to testify in the Scarpa case.

There were five in the New York crowd, she said. They came to see the first trial in December, 1931, and took up quarters at No. 15 Prince street.

On the day they arrived one of them, a man named Di Rosa, was shot and killed.

Saw DEFENDANTS. Nine days ago another of the group of five, Ferrara, was killed.

The night before the murder of Scarpa, the Palermo woman said, there had been a party in the place at Prince street. In her recital of the details she verified previous testimony given by another witness.

There were present, she said, Ferrara, herself, another woman, a man known as Freschi, Joseph Rinaldi and Luigi Di Padova. The last two named are among the seven defendants in the murder trial.

Women May Smoke On Streets of Worcester

Worcester, Aug. 24.—(Papers) old maid or society belles may puff their favorite brands of cigarettes on the streets of this city without fear of having their knuckles rapped or being humiliated or assaulted by any officer of the Worcester police department, declared Chief of Police Hill today. "I know of no man to smoke what, when and where she pleases."

MAN CARVED TO RIBBONS; HOLD WOMAN

Philadelphia, Aug. 24.—Detectives today were working on one of the most gruesome murders encountered here in recent years, following discovery of the body of John Doolley, fifty-seven, in a marsh near Grand Point on the Delaware river, covered with water.

Mrs. Elizabeth Babelst, occupant of a house in the vicinity, believed to be the murderer, is under arrest as a suspect.

According to Mrs. Leontina Agas, who occupies another house, she was on her way along the Parkway Ferry road near Mrs. Babelst's house when she heard agonized groans, then the voice of a woman shrieking, "Go away—away from my house."

Instead, Mrs. Agas said, she walked nearer to the Suburban house and heard a man's voice, crying, "Help, she's stabbed me! Help, she's stabbed me!"

At the same time two dogs kept barking and howling wildly. Mrs. Agas ran to the neighbor's house, awakened him and telephoned the police as well as the fire department.

With the exception of the two dogs, the police found no trace of the man, but he is believed to have been killed.

With motive the police have been unable to determine.

At the conclusion of the Greene case, Attorney-General Allen will take up the closed bank case. It is known officially that Attorney-General Allen will present the case of former District Attorney Feltner and Tuttle, Daniel E. Cook, William J. Corcoran, Berenice and others involved in blackmail and conspiracy before his special grand jury the second week of the deliberations and in time to secure the preliminary of many of charges by the statute of limitations in mid-September.

Mrs. Allen will pick into the charges involving defuncted heavy with vigor. It was predicted today. These and the bank case and other matters to be presented to the grand jury's second week of the deliberations and in time to secure the preliminary of many of charges by the statute of limitations in mid-September.

The knot was tied by former Lieutenant Belvin W. Maynard, the "Flying Parson."

With Eddie Hinson, Bertrand won the world's endurance record at Mineola, N. Y., last winter, remaining in the air 24 hours and 31 minutes.

NET BEATEN BY TRAFFIC COP SET FREE

George Cox, wounded war veteran, now employed at the Parker Hill Hospital, in Municipal Court today was found not guilty of the charges of drunkenness and assaulting two colored women.

Sensor George Curran of Roxbury testified for Cox, and three young women declared they had seen him beaten by colored Traffic Officer Banks at Massachusetts and Columbus avenues.

It is understood that charges against the policeman will be filed by Cox, who was represented in court by Judge Day.

According to Senator Curran's testimony, he was driving by the corner when his attention was attracted to a crowd. He said he stopped his automobile and going in the scene of trouble found Officer Banks handling Cox roughly.

Among these were three young women, Josephine Donnelly, Annette McManus and Hazel Blair, who testified that they were on their way home from a dancing school when they heard the policeman say to Cox:

"Go ahead, get out of here." They testified that Cox with one arm raised, as though to ward off a blow, replied:

"I'm going home" whereupon Banks jumped on him, striking Cox several times and knocking him down.

Collins Planned to Wed on Day He Was Killed

London, Aug. 24 (By the Associated Press).—The marriage of Michael Collins, slain chief of the Irish Free State, to Miss Kitty Kiernan had been fixed originally for last Tuesday, the day Collins was killed, says a Dublin dispatch to the Evening News.

The wedding date had been postponed, however, until after this month on account of the death of Arthur Griffith, president of the Dail Eireann Cabinet.

Miss Kiernan, daughter of a prominent business man of County Longford, had bought her trousseau.

In the alleged remarks of Cox, which discrepancy in testimony led Judge Creed to find the defendant not guilty.

United States Marshal Wheeler snapped handcuffs on him and took him to the Hartford jail to await Federal trial on the charge of breaking into the Potter Hill post office at Wethersfield, R. ANTHRACITE STOCK IS 8,000 TONS; CITY MUST GET QUICK RELIEF

Boston faces the most crucial coal shortage in her history, Mayor Curley announced today. Cold figures show that unless there is immediate relief, there will be an unprecedented crisis, with results that may prove to be of utmost gravity. Only an immediate settlement of the coal strike can avoid this crisis, the Mayor said.

The figures are: Hard coal in Boston today—8,000 tons. Soft coal in Boston today—35,000 tons. Boston uses an average of 1,800,000 tons of hard coal a year. This means that the present supply is adequate for about one and a half days.

The city uses an average of 4,000,000 tons of soft coal a year. The present supply would take care of Boston's requirements for a little more than three days.

One of the first effects of the coal shortage here will be the closing of Boston schools. The Mayor said that the suffering at hospitals and among the poor will be unparallelled if the supply of coal does not increase immediately.

The situation is so dangerous that the Mayor has sent letters to the president of the Boston Consolidated Gas Company and the Edison Electric Illuminating Company asking that they offer to the public an emergency reduction of rates.

The Mayor said that in this case of emergency was not the right kind of help.

Miss Kiernan, daughter of a prominent business man of County Longford, had bought her trousseau.

In the alleged remarks of Cox, which discrepancy in testimony led Judge Creed to find the defendant not guilty.

TO PROSECUTE 'POISON PEN' WRITERS

New Orleans, La., Aug. 24.—Friends of Mrs. Ouzina de Bonchelle of New Orleans, whose engagement to Mary Ann G. Canlier, Atlanta capitalist and banker, was recently announced, stated today that Harold A. Moise, an attorney of the city, had been retained to prosecute the authors of "poison pen" letters, who, it is alleged, have been incited by detectives.

A prominent New Orleans man and woman are said to be involved, but their names are being withheld.

It was said that the detectives had learned that the letters were written in an effort to prevent the marriage of Mrs. de Bonchelle to Mr. Canlier. A few days ago a letter was received here by a close friend of Mrs. de Bonchelle in which the writer said the marriage would take place soon.

Word was received in Boston today of the marriage in Portland, Me., of Miss Mary E. Reilly, a telephone operator of that city, to John A. Donovan of No. 4 Thornton place, Roxbury.

Donovan is a bookkeeper for the Boston Consolidated Gas Company, while his bride, who lived at No. 121 Parker street, Portland, Me., is also well known in Boston. The marriage was originally planned for the fall. After a honeymoon in Canada, the couple will reside in Roxbury.

BAKE AKA "BUY" HUSBAND

NEED BACK PROPOSED BARGAIN Film Star Asks $118,500 Damages; Hurt in Dynamite Explosion

By Mrs. Spreckels Says Former Wife Couldn't Stay Around, Anyway

Sanuelo, Cal., Aug. 24.—Mrs. Edith Huntington Spreckels, wife of the San Francisco newspaper artist, charged with having offered her $100 a month for life if she would relinquish her husband, declared today it was Kendrick that made the offer. She gave an interview at her bungalow here by the Golden Gate in which she exclaimed with emphasis:

"I told Kendrick and his wife that I contemplated a divorce long before I saw her. I don't deny that I did and I am fond of each other, not the idea of me separating that woman from her husband, alienating his affections and then offering to keep her here in the house and pay her $100 a month is absurd."

"I was told who offered his wife the $100 a month. I never did that. How could I offer anyone money? I am not a miser. I would have $100 a month for myself. I do my own housework. I clean the house, do the cooking and even the washing."

"I did take care of that woman to help her out. But don't think for a moment that I wanted a former wife around the man I was going to marry. Nothing doing along that line."

Mrs. Wakefield was found in the vicinity of her country home, doors and windows are screened and barred from the curious who come to see what manner of woman it was who was declared by Mrs. Kendrick to be willing to share her home with her and pay $100 per month for a residence—her husband.

NEVER OFFERED A CENT. Mrs. Wakefield said that she had taken "that woman into her home and done the best she could for her. She then continued:

"I left her here in comfort in my cottage. Now she comes out and talks about my millions, my palatial home, its exquisite furnishings and my 'trying to bribe her husband away.'"

"I never offered her a cent and she knows it. That woman thought I was her child, the fourteen-month-old baby. Well, what about my child?"

"Does she think I would carry out any such arrangement as that? I have my Mary and my two boys. Please tell that woman I have children to think of as well as she and that I am busy enough in doing the best I can for them."

"I can face all the fuss and commotion this affair has created. I guess it's kind of tough for Mary and my two boys. I am sure they will stand by me. He knows that I did not offer his wife $100 a month and when the time comes I am sure he will admit it."

Mrs. Kendrick Fights "White Playque" By FRED J. WALKER Campbell News Service Correspondent. Alameda, Cal., Aug. 24.—Another angle, that of the great white playque, has been made known by the Wakefield-Kendrick "hundred dollars a month if you'll give me your husband" love triangle.

This newest angle of the case will be the one hardest to settle, when the projected legal battle between Mrs. Edith Spreckels Wakefield and the 24-year-old wife of Rodney Kendrick is terminated.

Daddy Dolls Now

Two women and a baby, the latter, June, the 14-month-old baby girl of the Kendricks, are stricken with the disease. One of them is expected to die. Mrs. Nellie Kendrick has been all but given up by her physician, Mrs. William Moulter, her life long friend, who she has found a refuge who is in a critical condition. Little June playing light-heartedly around the house with her dolls and Teddy bears is apparently the healthiest child in the block, only there is a slight lack of color and a transparency to her skin that gives her mother a worried look. The fates have been unkind to Mrs. Kendrick, according to the story of her life as told to Connecticut News Service. A mother who died when the girl was in short dresses, a father who was unwell and unable to give her all the ordinary girl requires, life of work, marriage and now disease with the prospect of her baby girl being handicapped in life. WHEELWIND COURTING. The story went on, a whirlwind courtship by Kendrick, four years

IT'S TOUGH ON DAD; FINDS 'SON' IS DAUGHTER Yankee Heiress, Hid in Old English Town, Soon to Wed

New York, Aug. 24.—The newborn baby that was Edward Jr. to his happy young parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Rich, No. 15 Dwight street, Jersey City, until the discovery that it was not a boy, as they claim they had been told by hospital attendants, has been placed in an incubator.

Dr. David Russell, who attended Mrs. Rich when her baby was born, after consulting with a baby specialist, ordered the child's removal to the mothers' institute.

Thus the young parents have no child at all for the present, and the indignant and perplexed parents, placed in the embarrassing position of having announced the arrival of a son, are plunged deeper into doubt and perplexity.

Rich has placed the tangled misunderstanding, growing out of statements alleged to have been made by hospital attendants to the young mother on the night her child was born, and for a week following, that the baby was a boy, in the hands of a lawyer, Charles E. Simpson, No. 445 Newark street, Jersey City, in an effort to determine the truth.

"I find myself in a terrible situation," said Mr. Rich. "Immediately following the baby's birth I sent out announcements saying that we were the parents of a boy whose name would be Edward."

"We had planned to call our baby by that name if a boy; if a girl, we had decided to name it Dorothy Helen. Now the baby has been registered as Dorothy Helen and I made a mistake about my own child."

The young mother claims that, as she was coming out of the either after the baby's birth she heard Dr. Russell say:

"Wake up—don't you want to see your baby boy?"

She claims that for almost a week following, until the last Friday, she constantly referred to her baby in the presence of the nurses as a boy and was not contradicted.

The nurse built the baby twice a day although Mrs. Rich was never allowed to handle it. On Friday a new nurse was assigned to Mrs. Rich. This nurse, while dressing the baby in the room with his mother, asked Mrs. Rich, what made you think your baby was a boy?"

The mother was astounded. When she received an explanation from the nurses and Dr. Russell, all denied ever having said the infant was a boy.

Reception to Dr. Santosuosso An informal reception and dinner will be tendered to Dr. Joseph Santosuosso of the Boston City Clinic tonight. Dr. Santosuosso has just returned from a two-month trip abroad.

HEIRESS FIRES HER STAFF OF SERVANTS

Boston, Berkshire, England, Aug. 24.—Mary Langdon Baker, the Chicago heiress, has been discovered in this quiet, back-water old-world village, where she arrived with her secretary a few weeks ago. She is living in a wonderful old manor house, which she has rented.

Miss Baker has avoided the village since she arrived. Allister McCormick, her fiancé, has made repeated visits from London by automobile. It is said:

When it was reported that newspaper men attempted to telephone the servants at the manor house, it is understood, the whole staff was discharged, and a new staff installed.

When a correspondent arrived at the manor house, Mary posted her hand out of an upstairs bedroom window.

"What do you want?" she asked. When she learned that American newspapermen had called, she was greatly surprised.

"I can't understand how you found me," she said. "Anyhow, I have nothing to say."

McCormick, it was learned, will go to Switzerland this week for outdoor sports, returning to Boston in the middle of September.

Then, according to local papers, Miss Baker and McCormick will be married, either the 18th or 19th of September, in the village church, with a special license.
